

Going to the Missouri State Capitol Museum

I am going to the Missouri State Capitol Museum in Jefferson City, Missouri.

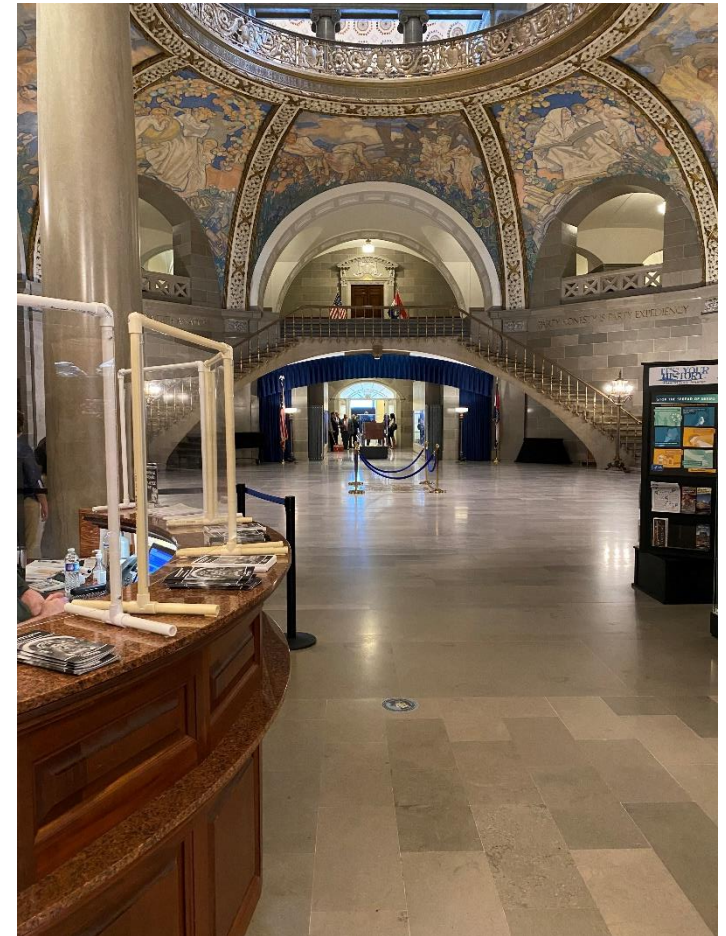

I will stay calm and be safe. I will stay with the adult I came with. I will tell someone if I need or want anything.

I will walk through the front door one time. I will have to walk through a security area. This area makes sure everyone who visits is safe. It is not scary and it will not hurt. I can ask questions if I'm not sure what to do.

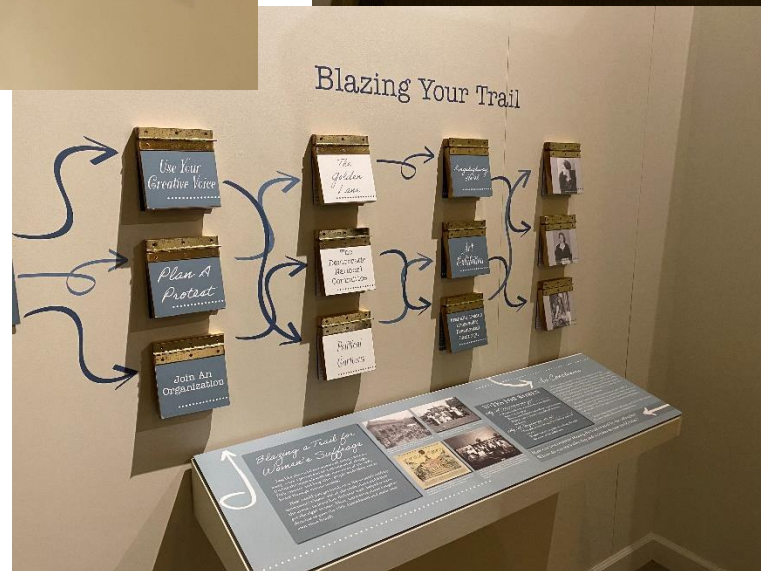

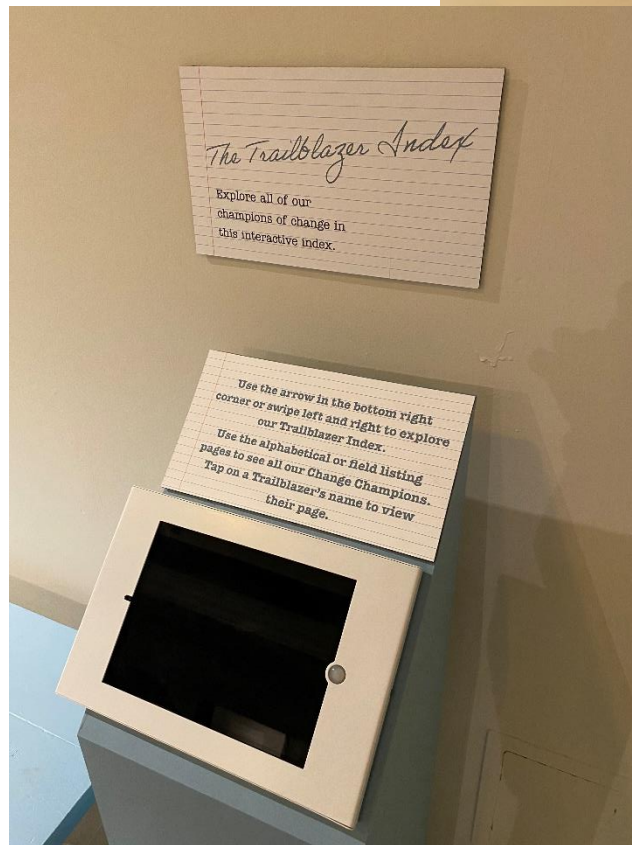

Once I go through security, then I will check in at the museum front desk. The nice people at the front desk will tell me what to do next. I will wait quietly and keep my hands to myself.

When it is time, I will go on the tour.

The museum has a lot of fun things to do and play with. I will be careful when playing and use my inside voice.

There are some things I can not touch. There are signs that say, “Do Not Touch.” I can be a good listener and follow directions. I will not touch these items.

After the museum, I might get to tour the rest of the Capitol. It has lots of rooms and offices. To see the Capitol, I will walk up the stairs or go in the elevator. I can tell an adult if I don't want to ride in the elevator.

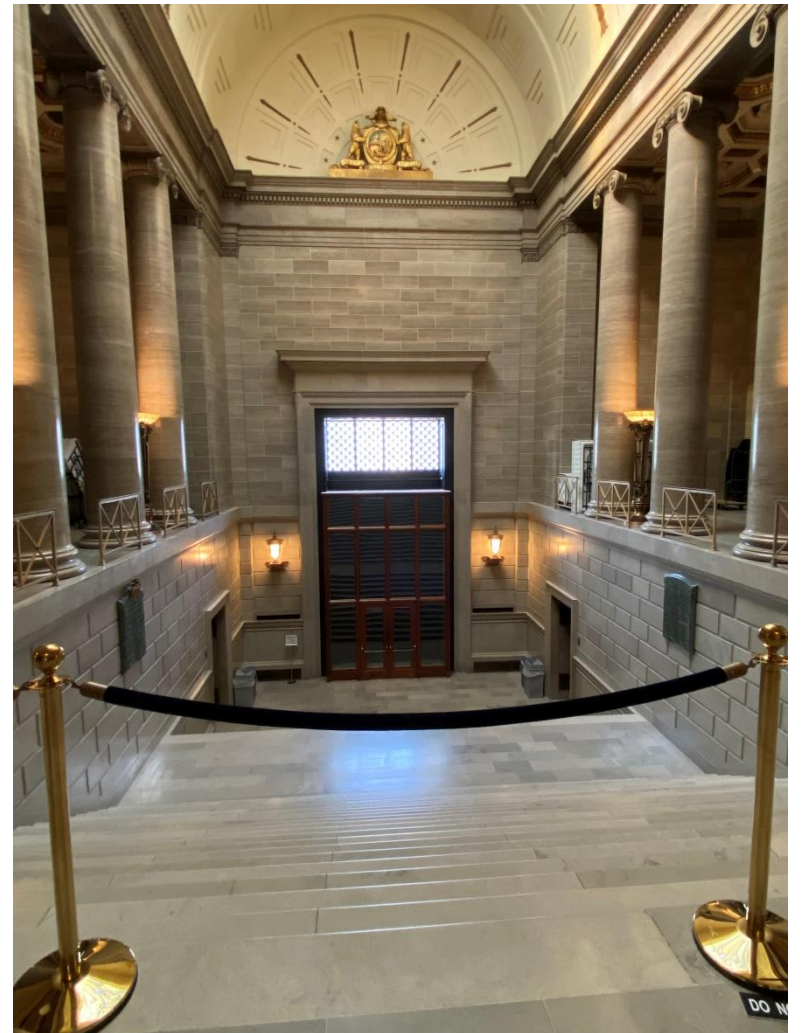

I will stay with an adult and walk. I will use my inside voice.

Sometimes the Capitol can be loud. If the noises are too loud for me, I can tell an adult.

The Capitol is really TALL in some places too! I will keep my feet on the ground and only go where the tour guide tells me I can go.

When the tour is over, I am all done and will leave the building with my adult. Going to the Missouri State Capitol Museum was so fun!
